

Magnetic Resonance Imaging Services

With over 30 years experience providing Radiation Protection Advice, IRS is your one-stop solution to all your radiation protection needs.

Service specification:

IRS will provide advice and scientific and technical services for magnetic resonance imaging. IRS has been recognised as an RPA Body by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE).

The service provision will include:

- Advice on the purchase, planning and installation of new magnetic resonance equipment
- Acceptance testing of MRI systems
- Routine quality assurance for MRI systems
- Input of expert physics knowledge
- Scientific support for the implementation of new techniques
- Advice on the optimisation of techniques and interpretation of images
- Advice on all aspects of patient and staff safety support for research and development and training of staff performance testing of equipment
- Measurement in relation to the distribution of static magnetic field limits